

Spring Stories

Spring is here! Whatever type of book you prefer – serious or sunny– enjoy a taste of springtime whenever you open one of these titles.

Devil in Spring by Lisa Kleypas “The world of Victorian England is drawn with Kleypas’ usual sharp wit and well-researched political nuances. ” – Kirkus

A Long Time Gone by Karen White “This southern saga of life in Mississippi is one of White's best. “ – The Huffington Post

Murder Most Maine by Karen McInerney It's springtime on Cranberry Island — and love is in the air. It seems like every woman has the hots for buff trainer Dirk De Leon. (#3 in series)

No Cats Allowed by Miranda James It's spring in Missouri but library staff are too busy crime-solving to stop and smell the flowers. #7 in Cat in the Stacks cozy mystery series.

Spill Simmer Falter Wither by Sara Baume “A deeply attuned portrait of the human mind...An unsettling literary surprise of the best sort.” – The Atlantic

Spring Fever by Mary Kay Andrews “Andrews delivers a satisfying read that will leave a taste as tangy, delicious and sweet as an ice-cold bottle of Quixie soda.” – Kirkus

Springtime: A Ghost Story by Michelle de Kretser “This is a gorgeous, delicately surprising piece of writing...” — The New York Times

Sweetbriar Cottage by Denise Hunter “Hunter's snappy dialogue and heartwarming prose will appeal to fans of Jan Karon and Mary Simses.”— Booklist

The Thoughts and Happenings of Wilfred Price Purveyor of Superior Funerals by Wendy Jones “...this diverting novel is pure pleasure ”— The New York Times

Upon a Spring Breeze by Kelly Irvin “A moving and compelling tale about the power of grace and forgiveness...” (An Every Amish Season novel) — Library Journal
